Dr. William J. Hall, MD helps patients achieve the body of their dreams

Diet and exercise do a number to contribute to a youthful, healthy appearance but, as age and other conditions deteriorate our trademark good looks, we may need a little help from a qualified professional.

Dr. William Hall is one of Scottsdale's premier cosmetic surgeons. He also owns and operates Infini Phoenix Liposuction, which offers a variety of modern procedures that revolutionize liposuction and liposculpture techniques. Big changes in the methods of anesthesia and the instruments used in the procedure are all part of the positively remarkable change in Liposuction today. By injecting the fat cells with a local anesthesia to numb the treatment area, patients are fully alert during the procedure and completely comfortable.

"We are the experts in modern liposculpting techniques, fat transfers, Brazilian butt lifts, breast augmentation with fat, Botox, facial fillers, lip enhancement, and a full aesthetics suite of services, including facials, peels, lasers, and products," says Dr. Hall. "The inner change and confidence that people get from achieving a new figure. That never gets old."

What makes Dr. Hall and Infini Phoenix Liposuction one of the southwest's most unique and comprehensive liposuction practices is their focus on minimally invasive cosmetic procedures, including one of the latest and most advanced skin-tightening techniques called Renuvion J-Plasma. "This precision repair is unique because we can apply controlled heat to target specific areas for skin tightening," Dr. Hall says.

J-Plasma involves using radio-frequency waveform technology to target sagging skin that comes with aging while tightening to restore a youthful appearance. Patients receiving this innovative treatment could expect a more sculpted result with minimal invasiveness and very little downtime during recovery.

Dr. Hall has also kept current in 2022 by adding Morpheus 8, an FDA-approved method for sculpting fat under the skin, erasing scars, smoothing, and tightening for a more youthful appearance, to Infini Phoenix Liposuction's list of services.

When he's outside of the operating room, Dr. Hall works to educate his peers regarding the state-of-the-art treatments used at his practice. "I have taught and lectured physicians from all over the world on our special form of fat removal," he says. This esteemed position as a leading authority in liposculpting has granted Dr. Hall prodigious credibility in the field of cosmetic surgery. He is one of the world's leading experts because of this.

Headed into 2023, Dr. Hall remains present in the medical community to include cutting-edge treatments in technology in his practice's services list as soon as they become available.
